

GST in India-An Introduction

@ VPJ Classes

Genesis of GST In India

It has now been more than a decade since the idea of national Goods and Services Tax (GST) was mooted by Kelkar Task Force in 2004. The Task Force strongly recommended fully integrated 'GST' on national basis.

Subsequently, the then Union Finance Minister, Shri P. Chidambaram, while presenting the Central Budget (2007-2008), announced that GST would be introduced from April 1, 2010. Since then, GST missed several deadlines and continued to be shrouded by the clouds of uncertainty.

- The talks of ushering in GST, however, gained momentum in the year 2014 when the NDA Government tabled the Constitution (122nd Amendment) Bill, 2014 on GST in the Parliament on 19th December, 2014. The Lok Sabha passed the Bill on 6th May, 2015 and Rajya Sabha on 3rd August, 2016. Subsequent to ratification of the Bill by more than 50% of the States, Constitution (122nd Amendment) Bill, 2014 received the assent of the President on 8th September, 2016 and became Constitution (101st Amendment) Act, 2016, which paved the way for introduction of GST in India.
- In the following year, on 27th March, 2017, the Central GST legislations - Central Goods and Services Tax Bill, 2017, Integrated Goods and Services Tax Bill, 2017, Union Territory Goods and Services Tax Bill, 2017 and Goods and Services Tax (Compensation to States) Bill, 2017 were introduced in Lok Sabha. Lok Sabha passed these bills on 29th March, 2017 and with the receipt of the President's assent on 12th April, 2017, the Bills were enacted. The enactment of the Central Acts is being followed by the enactment of the State GST laws by various State Legislatures. Telangana, Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh, Punjab, Goa and Bihar are among the first ones to pass their respective State GST laws.

France was the first country to implement GST in the year 1954. Within 62 years of its advent, about 160 countries across the world have adopted GST because this tax has the capacity to raise revenue in the most transparent and neutral manner.

Concept of GST

Value Added Tax	GST is a value added tax levied on manufacture, sale and consumption of goods and services.
Continuous Chain of Tax Credits	GST offers comprehensive and continuous chain of tax credits from the producer's point/service provider's point upto the retailer's level/consumer's level thereby taxing only the value added at each stage of supply chain.
Burden Borne by Final Consumer	The supplier at each stage is permitted to avail credit of GST paid on the purchase of goods and/or services and can set off this credit against the GST payable on the supply of goods and services to be made by him. Thus, only the final consumer bears the GST charged by the last supplier in the supply chain, with set-off benefits at all the previous stages.
No Cascading of Taxes	Since, only the value added at each stage is taxed under GST, there is no tax on tax or cascading of taxes under GST system. GST does not differentiate between goods and services and thus, the two are taxed at a single rate.

Needs for GST in India

- ➞ In the present regime, a manufacturer of excisable goods charges excise duty and value added tax (VAT) on intra-State sale of goods. However, the VAT dealer on his subsequent intra-State sale of goods charges VAT (as per prevalent VAT rate as applicable in the respective state) on value comprising of (basic value + excise duty charged by manufacturer + profit by dealer).
- ➞ Further, in respect of tax on services, service tax is payable other than the services specified in Negative list as provided under Section 66D of the Finance Act, 1994 or exempted vide the Mega Exemption Notification No. 25/2012-ST. Presently, from 1 June, 2016, service tax is levied @ 15% [Service tax @ 14%, Swachh Bharat Cess (SBC) @ 0.5% (w.e.f. November 15, 2015) and Krishi Kalyan Cess (KKC) @ 0.5% (w.e.f. June 1, 2016)] on specified services provided by service providers in India.
- ➞ The existing indirect tax framework in India suffer from various shortcomings. Under the existing indirect tax structure, the various indirect taxes being levied are not necessarily mutually exclusive. To illustrate, when the goods are manufactured and sold both central excise duty (CENVAT) and State-Level VAT are levied. Though CENVAT and State-Level VAT are essentially value added taxes, set off of one against the credit of another is not possible as CENVAT is a central levy and State-Level VAT is a State levy. Moreover, CENVAT is applicable only at manufacturing level and not at distribution levels. The existing sales tax regime in India is a combination of origin based (Central Sales Tax) and destination based multipoint system of taxation (State-Level VAT). Service tax is also a value added tax and credit across the service tax and the central excise duty is integrated at the central level.
- ➞ Despite the introduction of the principle of taxation of value added in India - at the Central level in the form of CENVAT and at the State level in the form of State VAT - its application has remained piecemeal and fragmented on account of the following reasons:
 - Non-inclusion of several local levies in State VAT such as luxury tax, entertainment tax, etc.
 - Cascading of taxes on account of (i) levy of Non-VATable CST and (ii) inclusion of CENVAT in the value for imposing VAT
 - No CENVAT after manufacturing stage
 - Non-integration of VAT & service tax
 - Double taxation of a transaction as both goods and services
- ➞ A comprehensive tax structure covering both goods and services viz. Goods and Service Tax (GST) would address these problems. Simultaneous introduction of GST at both Centre and State levels would integrate taxes on goods and services for the purpose of set-off relief and will ensure that both the cascading effects of CENVAT and service tax are removed and a continuous chain of set-off from the original producer's point/ service provider's point upto the retailer's level/consumer's level is established.

- ➔ In the GST Regime, the major indirect taxes have been subsumed in the ambit of GST. The present concepts of manufacture or sale of goods or rendering of services are no longer applicable since the tax is now levied on "Supply of Goods and/or services".

Constitutional Amendment

- ➔ The Constitutional provisions hitherto had delineated separate powers for the Centre and the States to impose various taxes.
 - Centre levied excise duty on all goods produced or manufactured in India,
 - States levied Value Added Tax once the goods entered the stream of trade upon completion of manufacture.
 - Services were exclusively taxed by the Centre together with applicable cesses, if any.
 - Besides, there were State specific levies like entry tax, luxury tax, entertainment tax, lottery and betting tax, local taxes levied by Panchayats etc. With respect to goods imported from outside the country into India, Centre levied basic customs duty and additional duties of customs together with applicable cesses, if any.
- ➔ Consequently, a Constitutional amendment was needed to enable integration of the central excise duty including additional duties of customs, State VAT, CST and certain State specific taxes and service tax levied by the Centre into a comprehensive goods and service tax.

Dual GST Model to be introduced in India

India will adopt a dual GST which will be imposed concurrently by the Centre and States, i.e. Centre and States will simultaneously tax goods and services. Centre will have the power to tax intra-State sales & States will be empowered to tax services. GST will extend to whole of India except the State of Jammu and Kashmir. (Now Jammu and Kashmir Legislative Assembly has passed the state GST Bill 2017 on Jul 07, 2017)

GST is a destination based tax applicable on all transactions involving supply of goods and services for a consideration subject to exceptions thereof.

	Union territories with their own legislatures [Delhi and Pondicherry]	It is for Levying SGST
	State Goods and Service Tax Act 2017. [Though there would be multiple SGST legislations, the basic features of law, such as chargeability, definition of taxable event and taxable person, classification and valuation of goods and services, procedure for collection and levy of tax and the like would be uniform in all the SGST legislations, as far as feasible. Exemption and Composition Scheme	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ In GST regime, tax (i.e. CGST and SGST/UTGST for intra-State supplies and IGST for inter-State supplies) shall be paid by every taxable person. ➤ However, for providing relief to small businesses, a simpler method of paying taxes and accounting thereof is also prescribed, known as Composition Scheme. ➤ Along with providing relief to small-scale business, the law also contains provisions for granting exemption from payment of tax on specified goods and/or services.

Utilisation of Input Tax Credit

Utilisation of ITC (GST Law)			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ Input Tax Credit (ITC) of CGST and SGST/UTGST will be available throughout the supply chain ✓ Cross utilization of credit of CGST and SGST/UTGST will not be possible, i.e. CGST credit cannot be utilized for payment of SGST/UTGST and SGST/UTGST credit cannot be utilized for payment of CGST. ✓ However, cross utilization will be allowed between CGST/SGST/UTGST and IGST, i.e. credit of IGST can be utilized for the payment of CGST/SGST/UTGST and vice versa.

Flow of Credit	Since GST is a destination based consumption tax, revenue of SGST will ordinarily ACCUE TO THE CONSUMING STATES. The inter-State supplier in the exporting State will be allowed to set off the available credit of IGST, CGST and SGST/UTGST (in that order) against the IGST payable on inter-State supply made by him. The buyer in the importing State will be allowed to avail the credit of IGST paid on inter-State purchase made by him. Thus, unlike the existing scenario where the credit chain breaks in case of inter-State sales on account of non-Vatable CST, under GST regime there is a seamless credit flow in case of inter-State supplies too. The revenue of inter-State sale will not accrue to the exporting State and the exporting State will be required to transfer to the Centre the credit of SGST/UTGST used in payment of IGST. The Centre will transfer to the importing State the credit of IGST used in payment of SGST/UTGST. Thus, the inter-State trade of goods and services (IGST) would need a robust settlement mechanism amongst the States and the Centre. A Central Agency is needed which can act as a clearing house and verify the claims and inform the respective Governments to transfer

the funds. This is possible only with the help of a strong IT Infrastructure.

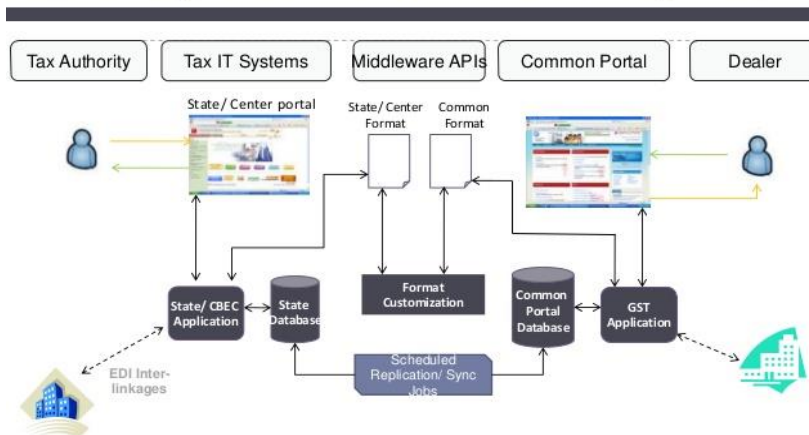

Goods & Service Network (GSTN)

Resultantly, Goods and Services Network (GSTN) - a Special Purpose Vehicle – has been set to provide a shared IT infrastructure and services to Central and State Governments, taxpayers and other stakeholders for implementation of GST. The functions of the GSTN, inter alia, include:

- Facilitating registration;
- Forwarding the returns to Central and State authorities;
- Computation and settlement of IGST;
- Matching of tax payment details with banking network;
- Providing various MIS reports to the Central and the State Governments based on the taxpayer return information;
- Providing analysis of taxpayers' profile; and
- Running the matching engine for matching, reversal and reclaim of input tax credit.

Inter-linkage of GSTN & Central/ state System

Taxes to subsumed in GST	GST will subsume various Central and State taxes into a single tax and allow a set-off of prior-stage taxes for the transactions across the entire value chain. CHARGE OF TAX

The very basis for the charge of tax in any taxing statute is the taxable event i.e. the point on which the levy of tax gets attracted. As discussed earlier, under GST, the taxable event is SUPPLY. CGST Act/SGST Act/UTGST Act levies tax on all intra-State supplies of goods and/or services while IGST Act levies tax on all inter-State supplies of goods and/ or services.

Benefits of GST

1. Creation of unified national market	GST aims to make India a common market with common tax rates and procedures and remove the economic barriers thus paving the way for an integrated economy at the national level.
2. Mitigation of ill effects of cascading	By subsuming most of the Central and State taxes into a single tax and by allowing a set-off of prior-stage taxes for the transactions across the entire value chain, it would mitigate the ill effects of cascading, improve competitiveness and improve liquidity of the businesses.
3. Elimination of multiple taxes and double taxation	GST will subsume majority of existing indirect tax levies both at Central and State level into one tax i.e., GST which will be leviable uniformly on goods and services. This will make doing business easier and will also tackle the highly disputed issues relating to double taxation of a transaction as both goods and services.
4. Boost to 'Make in India' initiative	GST will give a major boost to the 'Make in India' initiative of the Government of India by making goods and services produced in India competitive in the national as well as international market.
5. Buoyancy to the Government Revenue	GST is expected to bring buoyancy to the Government Revenue by widening the tax base and improving the taxpayer compliance.
6. Ease of business	GST will bring one country one tax concept. This will prevent unhealthy competition among states. It will be beneficial to do interstate business.
7. Reduction in Tax Evasion	Input tax credit will encourage suppliers to pay taxes - States and Centre will have dual oversight.
8. More Competitive Product	As GST will address cascading effect of tax, inter-state tax, high logistics cost it will make manufacturing more competitive. This will bring advantage to businessman and consumer.
9. Saving more Money	For a common man, GST applicability means the elimination of double charging in the system. This will reduce the price of goods and services & help common man for saving more money.

Taxable Event – Supply

The incidence of tax is the foundation stone of any taxation system. It determines the point at which tax would be levied, i.e. the taxable event. The existing framework of taxable event in various statutes is prone to catena of interpretations resulting in litigation since decades.

Broadly, the controversies relates to issues like whether a particular process amounts to manufacture or not, whether the sale is pre-determined sale, whether a particular transaction is a sale of goods or rendering of services etc. The GST laws seek to resolve these issues by laying down one comprehensive taxable event i.e: “Supply”.

GST Law, by levying tax on the ‘supply’ of goods and/or services, will depart from the historically understood concepts of ‘taxable event’ under the State VAT Laws, Excise Laws and Service Tax Laws i.e. sale, manufacture and service respectively.

In the GST regime, the entire value of supply of goods and / or services will be taxed in an integrated manner, unlike the existing indirect taxes, which are charged independently either on the manufacture or sale of goods, or on the provisions of services.

CONCEPT OF SUPPLY

The concept of 'supply' is the key stone of the GST architecture. The provisions relating to meaning and scope of supply are contained in Chapter III of the CGST Act read with various Schedules given under the said Act. Therefore, following shall be discussed herein:

Section 7	Meaning and scope of supply
Section 8	Taxability of composite and mixed supplies
Schedule I	Matters to be treated as supply even if made without consideration
Schedule II	Matters to be treated as supply of goods or as supply of services
Schedule III	Matters or transactions which shall be treated neither as supply of goods nor as supply of services.

Section 7 Meaning and scope of supply

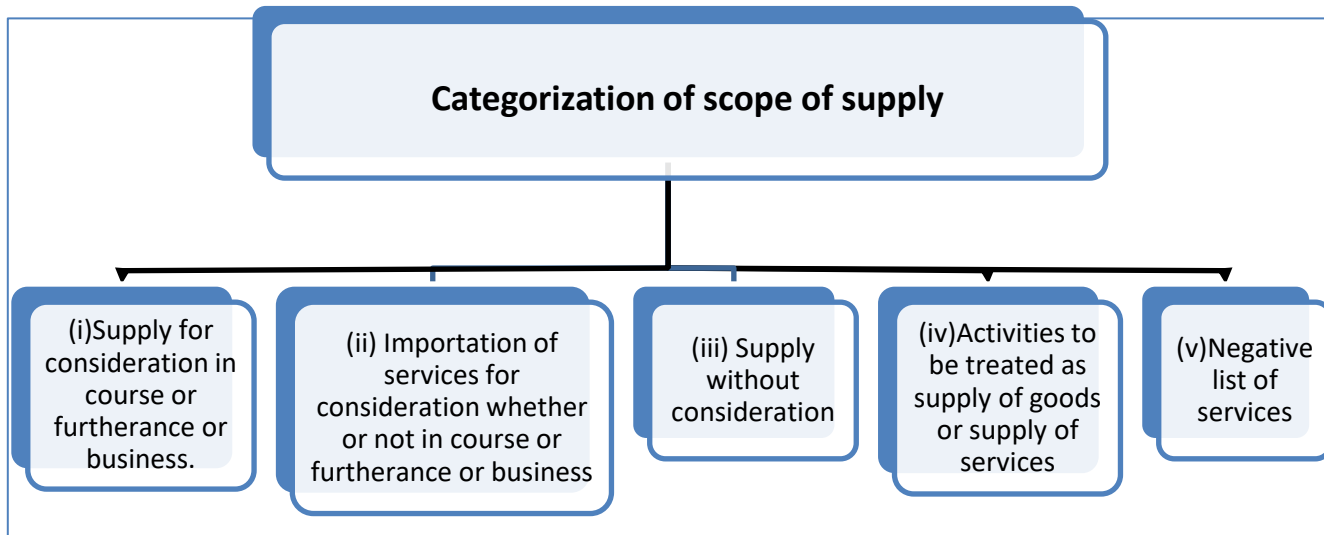

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, the expression "supply" INCLUDES—
- all forms of supply of goods or services or both SUCH AS sale, transfer, barter, exchange, licence, rental, lease or disposal made or agreed to be made for a consideration by a person in the course or furtherance of business;
 - IMPORT OF SERVICES for a consideration whether or not in the course or furtherance of business;
 - the ACTIVITIES specified in Schedule I, made or agreed to be made WITHOUT A CONSIDERATION; and
 - the activities to be treated as supply of goods or supply of services as referred to in Schedule II.
- (2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1),—
- activities or transactions specified in Schedule III; or
 - such activities or transactions undertaken by the CG, a SG or any local authority in which they are engaged as public authorities, as may be notified by the Government on the recommendations of the Council, shall be treated neither as a supply of goods nor a supply of services.
- (3) Subject to the provisions of sub-sections (1) and (2), the Government may, on the recommendations of the Council, specify, by notification, the transactions that are to be treated as—
- a supply of goods and not as a supply of services; or
 - a supply of services and not as a supply of goods.

Analysis – Section 7

Section 7 of the CGST Act defines the scope of supply in an inclusive manner. The modes of supply mentioned in Section 7(1)(a) are only in the forms of examples and the list is not exhaustive. This is substantiated by the use of words 'such as' in the definition.

Provisions of scope of supply under CGST Act have also been made applicable to IGST Act vide section 20 of the IGST Act and UTGST Act vide section 21 of the UTGST Act.

Discussion with regard to scope of supply has been categorized into following broad headings:

(i) Supply for consideration in course or furtherance or business.

The first part of section 7 includes all forms of supply of goods or services or both such as sale, transfer, barter, exchange, license, rental, lease or disposal made or agreed to be made for consideration in the course or furtherance of business.

Thus the forms of supply as contemplated in this first part appear to have two pre-requisites

- the supply should be for a consideration; and
- in the course or furtherance of business

Sale and Transfer	➡ Presently, VAT is levied by the State on the sale of goods which has been defined under most State VAT laws as transfer of property for consideration. Under the CGST Act, although sale has been treated as a form of supply leviable to GST, the definition of 'sale' has not been provided. ➡ Further, the term 'transfer' which has also been included as a form of supply is also not defined.
Barter and Exchange	While barter may deal with a transaction which only includes an exchange of goods/services, exchange may cover a situation where the goods are partly paid for in goods and partly in money. By making a specific inclusion in the definition of supply, all barter and exchanges would be leviable to GST. e.g. Buying a new car in exchange of old car
Licence, Lease, Rental etc.	✓ Licenses, leases and rentals of goods are presently treated as services where the goods are transferred without effective possession and control and treated as sales where the goods are transferred with effective possession and control. ✓ Under the GST regime, such licenses, leases and rentals of goods with or without transfer of right to use would be covered under the supply of service as per Schedule II to the CGST Act.
Consideration	✓ It includes any sum paid or payable for supply of goods and/or services. Advances paid, payments made by third person as well, amounts paid as contractual penalties, deposits etc. ✓ Any transaction involving supply of goods and/or services without consideration is not a supply unless it is deemed to be a supply under law

(ii) Importation of services for consideration whether or not in course or furtherance or business.

The connotation of 'supply' gets expanded significantly through the second part of section 7 i.e. 7(1)(b) which brings within the ambit of 'supply', the importation of services for a consideration whether or not in the course or furtherance of business.

(iii) Supply without consideration

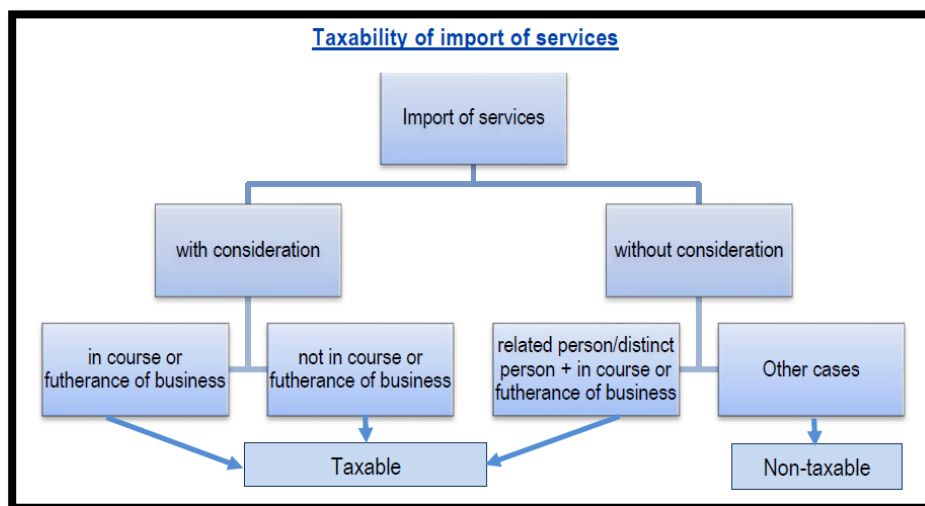

This includes all supplies by a taxable person to a taxable or non-taxable person, even if the same is without consideration. These are specifically mentioned in Schedule I appended to the CGST Act. The same has been discussed in the subsequent paras:

In the past regime, in every tax statute, "consideration" played the most important role for levying taxes. For eg, if any service has been provided for free to a person, such service is not subject to service tax. However, in the CGST Act, the importance of consideration has been diluted in certain cases – this is an important departure from the current indirect tax regime.

Permanent Transfer/Disposal of Business Assets	Any kind of disposal or transfer of business assets made by an entity on permanent basis even though without consideration. This clause is wide enough to cover transfer of business assets from holding to subsidiary company for nil consideration. However, it is important to note that this provision would apply if input tax credit has been availed on such assets. E.g.1 - XYZ & Co. donates old laptops to Charitable Schools when new laptops are purchased by business will qualify as supply provided input tax credit has been availed by XYZ & Co. on such laptops. E.g.2 - A cloth retailer gives clothes from his business stock to his friend free of cost. In this case, transfer of business stock would amount to 'supply' if he had claimed input tax credit on his purchase of the business asset.
Supply between related person or distinct persons	Supply of goods or services or both: <ul style="list-style-type: none">✓ between related persons or✓ between distinct persons as specified in section 25, will qualify as supply provided it is made in the course or furtherance of business. (i) Related persons Persons shall be deemed to be "related persons" if - <ul style="list-style-type: none">• such persons are officers or directors of one another's businesses;• such persons are legally recognised partners in business;• such persons are employer and employee;• any person directly or indirectly owns, controls or holds twenty-five per cent or more of the outstanding voting stock or shares of both of them;• one of them directly or indirectly controls the other;• both of them are directly or indirectly controlled by a third person;• together they directly or indirectly control a third person; or• they are members of the same family. (ii) Distinct Persons specified under section 25 <ul style="list-style-type: none">➡ A person who has obtained or is required to obtain more than one registration,

	whether in one State or Union territory or more than one State or Union territory shall, in respect of each such registration, be treated as distinct persons for the purposes of this Act. ➡ Further, where a person who has obtained or is required to obtain registration in a State or Union territory in respect of an establishment, has an establishment in another State or Union territory, then such establishments shall be treated as establishments of distinct persons. E.g. - Mohan, a Chartered Accountant, has a registered head office in Delhi. He has also obtained registration in the State of West Bengal in respect of his branch office. Mohan shall be treated as distinct persons in respect of registrations in West Bengal and Delhi.
Stock transfers or branch transfers	In view of the aforesaid discussion, transactions between different locations (with separate GST registrations) of same legal entity (eg., stock transfers or branch transfers) will qualify as 'supply' under GST which is in contrast to the existing regime.
Supply of goods or services or both between an employer and employee	By virtue of definition of related person, employer and employee are related persons. However, services provided by an employee to the employer in the course of or in relation to his employment shall not be treated as supply of services Further, Schedule I provides that gifts not exceeding Rs. 50,000 in value in a financial year by an employer to an employee shall not be treated as supply of goods or services or both. E.g. - An employer gives Diwali Gifts to employees worth Rs. 55,000/-. Since an employee and employer are considered to be related persons, such supply would be leviable to GST.
Principal – Agent	Supply of goods by a principal to his agent, without consideration, where the agent undertakes to supply such goods on behalf of the principal is considered as supply. Similarly, supply of goods by an agent to his principal, without consideration, where the agent undertakes to receive such goods on behalf of the principal is considered as supply. Points which merit consideration, in this regard, are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Only supply of goods is covered here • Supply of goods between principal and agent without consideration is also supply. E.g. - ABC Motors Ltd. engages Asian Cars Ltd. as an agent to sell cars on its behalf. For the purpose, ABC Motors Ltd. has supplied 20 cars to the showroom of Asian Cars Ltd. located in Haryana. Supply of cars by ABC Motors Ltd. to Asian Cars Ltd. will qualify as supply.
Importation of services	Import of services by a taxable person: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ✓ from a related person or ✓ from his establishments located outside India, ✓ in the course or furtherance of business shall be treated as "supply". E.g. - ABC Associates received legal consultancy services from its head office located in Malaysia. The head office has rendered such services free of cost to its branch office. Since ABC Associates and the branch office are related persons, services received by ABC Associates will qualify as supply even though the head office has not charged anything from it.

(iv) Activities to be treated as supply of goods or supply of services

Section 7(1)(d) of the Act refers to Schedule II for determining whether a particular transaction is a supply of goods or service. This helps in mitigating ambiguities in existing laws.

E.g. - Under existing laws, the restaurants charge both service tax and VAT on the value of food served. This is so because both sale of goods and provision of service is involved and therefore taxable event under both the Statutes i.e. respective VAT law and service tax law gets triggered. Under GST, the supply by a restaurant shall be treated as composite supply as food and service is naturally bundled in ordinary course of business. However, Entry 6(b) of Schedule II to the CGST Act specifically provides that such composite supply shall be treated as supply of service. Hence, the entire value of invoice shall be treated as value of service and leviable to GST.

Position Under Existing Laws		Position Under GST
Food Value = Rs.100		Food Value = Rs.100
Service Charges = Rs.10		Service Charges = Rs.10
VAT @ 14% on food value = Rs.14	VAT is charged on full value of food	GST @ 18% = Rs.19.8	The entire supply would be treated as a single composite supply under GST. The same would be taxable as per supply of service @ 18% on the entire value of supply.
Service Tax @ 6% on food value = Rs. 6 Service Tax @ 15% on service charges =Rs. 1.5	Service tax at abated rate is charged on food value.
Total Taxes paid VAT = Rs.14 Service Tax = Rs.7.5 Total = Rs.21.5	In nutshell, food is taxed twice under VAT laws and service tax laws and service tax is levied on service charges

Schedule II appended to the CGST Act lists the matters/transactions to be treated as Supply of either goods or services.

The matters listed out are generally those which had been entangled in litigation in the existing regime owing to their complex nature and susceptibility to double taxation.

These are as follows:-

S. No.	Transaction	Type	Nature of Supply
1.	Transfer	Title in goods	Supply of Goods

		Goods forming part of assets of any business carried on by a person who ceases to be a taxable person, shall be deemed to be supplied by him, in the course or furtherance of his business, immediately before he ceases to be a taxable person E.g. - A, a trader, is winding up his business. Any goods left in stock shall be deemed to be supplied by him and GST shall be payable. Exceptions: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Business is transferred as a going concern to another person.• Business is carried on by a personal representative who is deemed to be a taxable person. 6.	Following composite supplies :- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Works contract services; • Supply by way of or as part of any other service or in any other manner whatsoever, of goods, being food or any other article for human consumption or any drink 	Supply of Services
7	Supply of goods by an unincorporated association or body of persons to a member thereof for cash, deferred payment or other valuable consideration. E.g. - A local club supplies snacks etc. to its members during its monthly meeting for a nominal payment.	Supply of Goods

(v) Negative list of services

Schedule III in the CGST Act is akin to the negative list under the service tax regime. This schedule specifies transactions/ activities which shall be neither treated as supply of goods nor a supply of services.

S.No.	Activities or transactions which shall be treated neither as a supply of goods nor a supply of services
1.	Services by an employee to the employer in the course of or in relation to his employment.
2.	Services by any court or Tribunal established under any law for the time being in force.
3.	a) Functions performed by the Members of Parliament, Members of State Legislature, Members of Panchayats, Members of Municipalities and Members of other local authorities; b) Duties performed by any person who holds any post in pursuance of the provisions of the Constitution in that capacity; or c) Duties performed by any person as a Chairperson or a Member or a Director in a body established by the Central Government or a State Government or local authority and who is not deemed as an employee before the commencement of this clause.

6.	Actionable claims, other than lottery, betting and gambling .

Explanation - For the purposes of paragraph 2, the term "Court" includes District Court, High Court and Supreme Court.

Section 8 Taxability of composite and mixed supplies

The tax liability on a composite or a mixed supply shall be determined in the following manner, namely:—

- a composite supply comprising two or more supplies, one of which is a principal supply, shall be treated as a supply of such principal supply; and
- a mixed supply comprising two or more supplies shall be treated as a supply of that particular supply which attracts the highest rate of tax.

Analysis – Section 8

In many cases, the transactions that fall within the scope of GST may consist of more than one element. These elements may be a mix of goods, or services, or both. Sometimes these elements, if supplied separately, may have different GST liabilities depending upon the rates, applicability of time of supply and place of supply provisions. To avoid disputes about whether the supplier is making a single supply with one liability, or multiple supplies with different liabilities, it has to be determined whether the supply is one of goods, or of services, or it is a supply constituted of both goods and services (composite supplies/ mixed supplies). In order to determine whether the supplies are 'composite supplies' or 'mixed supplies', one needs to determine whether the supplies are naturally bundled or not naturally bundled in ordinary course of business.

Composite Supply	Composite supply means a supply made by a taxable person to a recipient and: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> comprises two or more taxable supplies of goods or services or both, or any combination thereof. are naturally bundled and supplied in conjunction with each other, in the ordinary course of business. This means that in a composite supply, goods or services or both are bundled owing to natural necessities. The elements in a composite supply are dependent on the 'principal supply'.
How to determine the tax liability on composite supplies	A composite supply comprising of two or more supplies, one of which is a principal supply, shall be treated as a supply of such principal supply. E.g. - Suvarna Manufacturers entered into a contract with XYZ Ltd. for supply of readymade shirts packed in designer boxes at XYZ Ltd.'s outlet. Further, Suvarna Manufacturers would also get them insured during transit. In this case, supply of goods, packing materials, transport & insurance is a composite supply wherein supply of goods is principal supply. E.g.- When a consumer buys a television set and he also gets warranty and a maintenance contract with the TV, this supply is a composite supply. In this example, supply of TV is the principal supply, warranty and maintenance services are ancillary.
Mixed Supply	Mixed supply means: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> two or more individual supplies of goods or services, or any combination thereof, made in conjunction with each other by a taxable person for a single price where such supply does not constitute a composite supply. The individual supplies are independent of each other and are not naturally bundled
How to determine the tax liability on mixed supplies	A mixed supply comprising of two or more supplies shall be treated as supply of that particular supply that attracts highest rate of tax. E.g. - A supply of a package consisting of canned foods, sweets, chocolates, cakes, dry fruits, aerated drink and fruit juices when supplied for a single price is a mixed supply. Each of these items can be supplied separately and is not dependent on any other. It shall not be a mixed supply if these items are supplied separately. E.g. - A shopkeeper selling storage water bottles along with refrigerator. Bottles and the refrigerator can easily be priced and sold separately. So, such supplies are mixed supplies.
